Liability Novacavi liability is limited to the materials it supplies and it shall not extend in any case to the plant or line where its products can be integrated or to any deriving production.

The cables design is determined following your request and, as for missing items, according to our experience of manufacturer. Performance of the offered cables depends on how it will be used, on the characteristics of the machinery in which they will be installed and on the conditions of operations.

For these reasons, the warranty coverage is only for physical defects of their construction. Tests performed on samples expressly built will give us the opportunity to extend the warranty to the operation of the offered cables according what previously agreed.

Offer validity at current costs 30 DAYS

Distinti saluti/Best regards
